

7.2 Best Practices

Best Practice 1: Book Bank Scheme

1. Objective of the Practice

Academic help to the poor and needy, but intelligent students

2. Need Addressed and the Context

Most of the advanced learners in our institution come from underprivileged classes. They need extra reading. However, due to their financial constraints, they cannot buy books. Therefore, this intellectual need of theirs is fulfilled through this scheme.

3. The Practice

Advanced learners from economically weaker sections of the society are identified and their list is displayed in on the notice board of the institution. Such students are given any three books, generally related to their study, that they demand. They can keep these books with them throughout the academic year. Besides these books, they are given a book on certain day for a week. This helps them greatly in their study. 118 students benefited from the scheme in the academic year 2018-19.

4. Evidence of Success

The students that have availed this scheme have fared well at the examinations. They admit that the scheme was quite helpful them for preparing for the examination in the better manner.

5. Resources

The institution provides the required resources to make the books available to the poor and needy, but intelligent students under this scheme.

Best Practice 2: Monetary Help to the Students

1. Objective of the Practice

Help the students not to get deprived of higher education due to financial constraints

2. Need Addressed and the Context

Our college is situated in rural area. Many of our students come from socially and financially weaker sections of the society. Some of them find it difficult to pursue higher education due to the financial constraints. Such students are helped by the institution so that they are not deprived of higher education.

3. The Practice

Every year poor and needy students are helped financially by the institution so that they are not denied the right to higher education. Seven poor and needy students were given the financial help of Rs. 11857/- during the academic year 2018-19. Besides, the poor and needy students are given incognito financial help by the members of the faculty.

4. Evidence of Success

Due to this practice many poor students are getting higher education who otherwise might not have been able to pursue higher education. Many students have been given financial help by the institution so far. Sometimes even our alumni are given help to pursue PG degrees.

5. Resources

The institution has Poor Students Aid Fund. The poor and needy students are given economic from this fund by the institution. Our alumni also help us in this cause. Our faculty members also give incognito financial help to the poor students. These are the major resources.
